ECCENTRIC PERFORMING TECHNIQUES

If your world is turned upside down because of the corona virus, it's a perfect time to embrace Eccentric Performing—one of the most personal and paradoxical forms of theater: It can be ingenious or dim-witted, skillful or blundering. It can have a sharp verbal wit or be completely silent. It can be extremely silly while pointing out the failure of society. Above all Eccentric Performing is funny!

Kursleitung:
Avner Eisenberg

This Lab is open to performers of all experience levels. Each week Avner will feature new principles and propose an assignment for you to prepare a short video, no more than 2 minutes, and upload it as unlisted to YouTube. At the next session the group will view the videos and Avner will offer comments and coaching.

What you will learn in this Introduction to Eccentric Performing:

- > Creating and maintaining rapport with any audience
- > Using breath to increase your comfort on stage, and to heighten the emotional impact of your performance
- > Using problem solving to create comedy out of ordinary activities
- > And much more!

Here is what some students have said about the Eccentric Performing workshop.

„Avner's workshop was amazing. Now, everything is different on stage, it is a new feeling...wonderful. Yesterday I played on stage with a new philosophy. Now I have time on stage, time I can share with the audience. It gives me much more fun and the time to find the new moments in the theatre. Thank you very much for these skills.“

„I learned more from your class than most of the workshops and classes I have taken in the past five years combined!“.
